RESPONSE TO AN EMERGENCY

R.E.A.C.T™
RESPOND TO OR RAISE THE ALARM
You should always respond to or Raise the Alarm

EVALUATE
Establish what type of emergency you may be facing

ASSASS
Assess the risks to your life safety and that of others

CONTROL
Take control of the situation, act responsibly

TALK
Always Talk (Communicate) with all parties concerned

STAGES OF EVACUATION

Evacuation should be conducted in three distinct stages depending on the severity of the incident.

STAGE 1 - REMOVAL OF PERSONS FROM THE IMMEDIATE DANGER AREA
Occupants are removed from the affected compartment into the next compartment, eg from a room into a corridor. Doors should be closed to contain smoke and fire in the affected compartment.

STAGE 2 - REMOVAL TO A SAFE AREA
If the severity of smoke or heat warrants further evacuation, occupants and visitors should be moved to safe areas on the same level.

STAGE 3 - COMPLETE EVACUATION OF THE FLOOR
Should the emergency necessitate evacuation of the affected floor, Wardens are to direct occupants to the assembly area via the emergency exits.
